

CALSTOCK

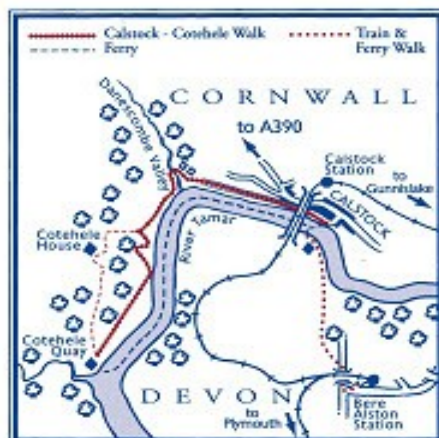

Dominated by the magnificent railway viaduct, the pretty village of Calstock offers a range of local facilities including shops, toilets, a variety of places to enjoy a drink or something to eat, and a station on the scenic Tamar Valley Line between Plymouth and Gunnislake.

COTEHELE

This National Trust property offers a tearoom, ice cream sales and Discovery Centre (telling the story of the Tamar Valley) and toilets on the quayside. Just a short walk away, there are woodland walks, Cotehele House, Mill and gardens (discounted admission for ferry ticket holders).

DISCOVERY TRAIL

A 30-mile+ walking route, sign-posted by waymarkers between Launceston and Plymouth. Enjoy scenic woodland, historic river quays and rural villages. The trail offers many shorter local circuits along the way. Pick up a leaflet to find out more.

CALSTOCK to COTEHELE
From Monday 3rd May to Sunday 3rd October 2010

FARES ARE AVAILABLE AS SINGLES AND RETURNS - PLEASE PAY THE BOATMAN.

The ferry carries a maximum of 12 passengers.

Dogs on leads are carried at the discretion of the boatman.

For any special requirements, please contact the operator in advance.

The ferry will depart from Calstock Quay or Cotehele Quay at approximately hourly intervals during the operating period. The time of the next departure is chalked up on the ferry notice board on the quays.

The journey takes about 15 minutes.

The ferry will call at Ferry Farm (Bere Alston) on the Devon bank, on demand. Please raise the flag to attract the boatman's attention and he will call past to collect you.

There is a car park at Cotehele Quay and Calstock, but not at Ferry Farm - access on foot only. Follow the Discovery Trail waymarkers down from Bere Alston train station (please keep dogs on leads through the farm).

There is an enjoyable walk between Calstock and Cotehele - why not take the ferry one way and walk the other?

IMPORTANT: The ferry is dependent upon the tide and does not run every day or to regular times. Please check operating times carefully when planning your day.
